

10 Rater AMYA Class Rules

Effective 2002

The AMYA 10 Rater Class adopts the International 10 Rater class rules, as they may be amended.

For the most current version of the International class rules, interested parties should check the ISAF-RSD web site. Look under printable documents and scroll down to the 10 Rater class section to find class rules, measurement forms, and other class documents.

Registration

As an International class, 10 Rater registration is a two-part process: AMYA registration and International certification. If you are already an AMYA member, use the above link to send boat information to the 10 Rater class secretary. Be sure to include the $5 fee, and you will be issued an individual registration number. As stated in the International Class Administrative Rules, the last 2 digits of your registration number will be your sail number. Special requests for sail numbers will try to be accommodated. For International 10 Rater class registration, boats will need to be measured and certified by designated officials within AMYA. Contact the 10 Rater class secretary for more information on International certification.
